Forte Bio Red96e

Description

Th Forte Bio Octet red96e uses a variety of substrates to measure selective binding kinetics of proteins. It uses a variety of coatings on the tips of the probes used for measurement to achieve this selectivity. Please note that it is the responsibility of the individual user to obtain the appropriate probe tips for their experiment.

Location

Bagley Hall 83

Training Required

Yes